Advertisement for the post of SRF in ANRF (SERB) funded Research Project

Applications are invited from highly motivated and eligible candidates for the position of Senior Research Fellow (SRF) (as applicable) in a ANRF funded Research Project.

Title of the Project: Development of a Data-driven Fruit Ripening Detector based on Bio-Impedance of Senescent Fruits: Mangoes and Papaya

About the project:

The project involves creating a data-driven fruit ripening detector using bio-impedance for senescent fruits like mangoes and papayas. This likely includes designing sensors to measure the electrical properties of the fruits as they ripen, collecting and analysing data to establish ripeness patterns, and developing algorithms to accurately detect ripeness based on bio-impedance measurements. The goal is to create a reliable and efficient method for determining fruit ripeness, which can be valuable for the agriculture and food industries.
